

Something New in Dinnerware

The Blue Bird has always been the harbinger of Spring and sunshine. According to all folkloves, the bringer of happiness and contentment. This Blue Bird is the design of a Dinner Set made by one of the foremost American potters. The highest point reached in harmony of color, chaste design and, at the same time, the latest thing in the prevailing mode. It will prove to be the greatest ever—a Blue Bird in blue and turquoise with the red of nature on the breast, finished in a fine glaze and tracing. To see it laid out complete is a real acclamation of wonder from every lady who views.

WOMAN SCIENTIFIC FARMER AT AGE OF 80

By United Press.

Marion, O., June 6.—Sixty-one years ago today Eunice Concklin, a direct descendant of the historically famous Roger Williams of Rhode Island, and D'Estang Salisbury of Cincinnati, plighted their troth in the picturesque Concklin home here.

The furniture and mural decorations of the room are the same as they were the day that Salisbury, now head, claimed his bride, who is now in her eightieth year.

Despite her age she is a student of intensive and scientific farming. She manages the largest agricultural lands in Marion county, left her by her father, who bought 2,000 acres from the government for $1.50 an acre in 1821.

Mrs. Concklin's mother, Sophia Sweetser Concklin, taught President Rutherford B. Hayes his letters in school at Delaware, Ohio. Mrs. Concklin says that Hayes, when President-elect, claimed Mrs. Concklin gave him his first start toward the presidency of the United States.

Since receiving her large inheritance, Mrs. Concklin has been her own business agent. With her farmer tenants, she plans the crops and is almost as active as when a girl. She is busy every minute and claims she has never found time to grow old, that she is "always busy doing something."

"FAKE REMEDIES" ADVERTISED

No doubt some of the medicines advertised are fakes, but these never have any lasting success. They stand in striking contrast to the good old standard, dependable remedies, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has stood the test of time and for more than forty years has been alleviating the suffering of womanhood. Such medicines are a blessing to the community and will continue their good work from one generation to another.

A Fine Aid For Mother-to-be

We are all greatly indebted to those who tell their experiences. And among the many things which we read about and are of immediate importance to the expectant mother, is a splendid external remedy called "Mother's Friend."

This is applied over the muscles of the stomach. It is deeply penetrating in its influence. Mothers everywhere tell of its soothing effect, how it allays pains incident to straining of cords, ligaments and muscles. They tell of restful comfort, of calm, peaceful nights, an absence of those distresses peculiar to the period of expectancy, relief from morning sickness, no more of that apprehension with which so many young women's minds become burdened. It is a splendid help. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" from your nearest drugist. Ask your husband to get it for you. Then write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 708 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a very handsome and instructive book. It is filled with suggestive ideas of great help to all women interested in the subject of maternity. And best of all are some letters from mothers that are real inspirations. Write today.

We can go back half a century for letters from women who used "Mother's Friend." And it was this sort of recommendation that extended its use until today it is sold in almost every drug store in the United States. It is considered a standard remedy and one of the most efficient helps known. Directions for using are very easily complied with and it may be used at any time whenever needed.

TO DECIDE WHO GETS SUFF VOTE

By United Press.

Chicago, June 6.—What political party will officially be handed the support of 4,000,000 women's votes in the eleven "free" states at the November national election?

This question, the most important in the Woman's party convention meeting here this week, was to be decided today by suffrage delegates when they assemble this afternoon at the Blackstone theater.

The Woman's party expects to place this vote where it will do the most good in helping to bring about national equal suffrage.

Political parties are to be given to understand that "Suffrage First" is the Woman's party motto and that party platforms expecting to catch woman votes must be built accordingly.

A mass meeting will be held tonight at which prominent political leaders will speak.

Tomorrow, 40,000 women will parade to impress the men politicians with the strength of suffrage. The New York state banner to be carried in the parade was hand wrought by women artists in New York.

It was designed by Miss Anne Goldthwaite, artist, and among the women working on it were Miss Alice Morgan Wright, sculptor.

Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse will carry the banner at the head of the New York state contingent.

MUST PAY LICENSES

Mayor Coffman had blood in his eye this morning when he instructed City Clerk Reynolds to make out a list of all businesses in Chickasha whereon licenses were supposed to be paid and had not been paid.

Clerk Reynolds stated this morning that he had completed the list and had it ready for the mayor. The list shows that of a total of 40 different kinds of business in Chickasha whereon licenses are charged, seventeen remain due and unpaid.

The mayor stated that the licenses should have been paid not later than June 1st, that he had given everyone three days grace and now he proposed to "slap the law to them."

FIRE DRILLS AT PHONE EXCHANGE

Once each month hereafter fire drill will be held at the exchange of the telephone company to guard against undue excitement and panic in times of emergency. During a very few minutes on the days when these drills occur service will be slightly interrupted while the young women hold fire drill and return to the switchboard.

"The bravery of the young women of the switchboard has been proven in many instances," explains Manager Kelly. In fire and flood and storm at different points over the country they have remained at their posts as long as the wires were working. The safety of whole communities has often rested in their hands. The lives and property of individual subscribers in Chickasha as elsewhere, is frequently theirs to protect.

"The telephone company has developed a plan for the protection of these community protectors. Fire drills at the exchange have been held before but never in such a comprehensive way as to include all the operators. In fact, as we have had no fire here so far, our local switchboard has never been left without operators on duty for a single second, in all the years it has been located here—Sundays, holidays and nights all look alike to the switchboard."

"We believe, though," he continued, "that the slight inconvenience to patrons of the company attendant upon such protective measures will be understood and the conditions appreciated."

There are now 23 young women on duty during the busiest hours in the

ROAD CASE IN COURT

STATE SUPT. WILSON IS VISITING NORMALS

Oklahoma City, June 6.—(Special.)

State Superintendent R. H. Wilson is making a tour of the State Normals. Reports which have been received indicate that the enrollment for the summer term will be larger than ever before. In addition to the six State Normals a branch of the Durant Normal is being conducted at McAlester with a large enrollment. An exceptional feature of the Normals this year is that for the first time no examinations will be given in any of them the latter part of June. None of the State Normals are giving a review course this summer and all who have enrolled are taking the full credit course. A larger number of counties have united with the State Normals this year than ever before. Less than one-third of the counties will hold an examination at the end of the June period. Heretofore more than half of the counties conducted review normal institutes and held examinations at the close of the June period.

The Lucile road matter, which for over half a year was a nightmare with the county commissioners, and which has at last got into the district court, was called up before Judge Will Linn yesterday. The plaintiff, Grady county, had on file a number of demurrers to the answer of the defendant, Dave Hill, against whom condemnation proceedings had been instituted at the request of the board of commissioners. Judge Linn over-ruled the demurrers in part and sustained a part of them and then ordered the matter passed until such time as both the county and the defendant might be ready for trial.

County Attorney Venable stated this morning that he thought it possible that all parties might be able to get together at an early date and settle the differences out of court.

The Lucile road matter has been before the board of commissioners, and the district court, as stated above, for several months. Some time ago the county attorney was instructed to file condemnation proceedings and later the order of the commissioners, so instructing, was withdrawn only to be again made.
